Mary O'Brien

Mary O'Brien studied the violin at the Paris Conservatoire for 5 years and served a 2½ year apprenticeship with the Hallé Orchestra. She then toured Italy with a Chamber Orchestra of freelance musicians.

Miss O'Brien currently tutors in Violin at the University of Auckland. Her recent performances include an informal concert with Barry Morgan and playing with the St Matthew's Chamber Orchestra (Auckland) as a soloist and leader.

Andrew Buchanan-Smart

Mr Buchanan-Smart studied at the Purcell School of Music, Royal Academy of Music and Royal College of Music in London before moving to New Zealand where he has been resident conductor of the Waikato Symphony Orchestra for four years. In this time, the Chamber Orchestra was formed and has performed to a high standard with local soloists and the Hamilton Civic Choir.

Mr Buchanan-Smart presently runs the Musical Instrument Department at Hamilton Piano Co. and is the local secretary for the Australian Music Examination Board.
